Introduction

DVDTube is a site many perverts have been waiting for from the very first time they heard a rumor it was being built. The site is truly massive, featuring over 4,000 complete DVDs with 3 more new ones added every day 7 days a week! That means monthly members are paying less than 1 penny per DVD for this mammoth collection of smut!

Adult Review

Few adult websites actually generate a buzz within the sex industry prior to launch the way that DVDTube has. The site went live recently and shocked even the most jaded critics with a catalog of over 4,000 complete DVDs and no DRM encoding. That means you can sign up and download as many discs as you like... and all of that great content is yours to keep until you delete... or forever if you want to set aside hard drive space for it.

The interface of DVDTube is simple to use and allows you to search the gigantic DVD collection with just a few clicks. You can search by genre, by studio, by performer or even do keyword searches with their premium engine. Within less than thirty seconds after joining you will have a screen full of the kind of porn movies you wanted to see.

Every update allows you to view the movie online one scene at a time in a variety of speeds. The site offers lower speed streaming so dialup viewers have nothing to fear and it offers ultra streams that will keep even fiber optic point to point connected broadband users totally maxed out on their download capacity as well.

Streaming unfortunately uses the older windows media based technology but there is word that Flash streaming versions of files are in the pipeline down the road.

One drawback to DVDTube is that while you can watch individual scenes online, you can only download entire DVDs. So if you find a disc that has one scene you like and three that aren't catching your cock's attention, you can either watch the one you like online streaming or you can download the whole movie and waste some space saving the clips you were not looking for as well.

With low speed downloads that's no big deal, but downloading full movies on Ultra 512x384 resolution can require over 1GB of hard drive space per download. The producers have told The Tongue that they intend to allow scene by scene downloads in the near future and we will keep all of you TasteBuds updated on their progress.

DVDTube does not provide any picture sets. Each movie comes with some screenshots of each scene as well as the box cover images from the front and back of the box - but honestly... with 1,000s of hours of video to watch, members would not be spending time on still frame pictures anyway.

DVD Tube also does not provide any text descriptions of the action beyond what was printed on the original DVD box. So, you may want to stream parts of a scene or two to see if it's what your dick wants to watch before you download the disc after scrolling through a couple screencaps.

Overall this is an excellent site. It flat out replaces your need to ever go to a video store again. For a brand new site like DVDTube to launch with 4,000+ DVDs is amazing. It won't satisfy those seeking rare and exclusive content and there are some things that can be brushed-up in version 2.0 but even at the asking price of $39.73 per month this site is still probably the cheapest per scene porn portal that you will ever find.

Porn Summary

DVDTube is so big that your dick will be whistling as it walks down the virtual aisles of its new favorite video store. Stop rushing in and out of your local video shack and take your time on DVDTube instead... where you are always sure to find
