Introduction

Like olympic powerlifters with a fresh coat of drying powder on their hands, these beauties attempt to "clean and jerk" one load after another on their way to fame.

Adult Review

Sure it's sexy to bang out one or more of the holes on a woman... but perhaps you overlooked the fact that she also has hands? This site proves once and for all that women have hands for a reason!

Tugjobs is another niche site from the fine fellas at the BangBrothers network. BangBrothers have been around quite a while and have earned a reputation as one of the better production houses in online adult entertainment.

Like idiot savants in a video arcade aching for their chance to get their hands on a joystick, these tight fistied cuties show their stuff as they compete head to head at the five finger shuffle. You wont see these videos anywhere else so be sure to watch closely because many of these ladies try to prove that the hand is in fact quicker than the eye.

A membership to this site also includes full access to all the other included sites linked on the right side of this review. That means you'll also get plenty of oral, anal, teen and scream action as a network member along with the content cranked out by this site.

All of the videos are available in dialup friendly formats, streaming formats and in larger formats for broadband. You can download entire scenes with one click or break them up any way you want. The interface is well designed and very easy to use.

The site also has some nifty features that allow you to tag scenes as your favorites, to rate models and their performances, or to search for specific content by actress.

One thing to be careful of is the pricing plans offered by BangBrothers. To their credit the site does offer a 3 day trial but there are a few catches you should be aware of. The trial is $4.95 for three days of limited access, there are a lot of videos and features you can not use unless you have a monthly membership which makes the trial more frustrating than it is worth.

Also, if you do take the three day trial and later decide to upgrade to a monthly membership, the site charges you $39.95 per month. If instead you choose the monthly membership from the start the site only charges you $23.95 a month. If you decide to give Bangbrothers your business I urge you to buy a full month and stay away from the trial membership entirely.

Porn Summary

These are the kind of girls who could always beat you in a game of Pacman. Once they got their grip on the stick you knew it would be a while before it was your turn to play. Now you can watch as those skills are put to better use!
